

Innotech-Execaire Aviation Group signs as launch customer for CAE's new digital ecosystem for business aviation operators

Las Vegas, Nevada, USA, October 13, 2021 (NYSE: CAE; TSX: CAE) — CAE announced today at the 2021 National Business Aviation Association (NBAA) annual convention and exhibition, that Innotech-Execaire Aviation Group (IEAG) has selected CAE's digital ecosystem to improve efficiency of its operations, marking the company as the launch partner for its innovative suite of digital services in the business aviation market.

CAE will link Innotech-Execaire Aviation Group operators and pilots in a unified software ecosystem to streamline pilot engagement, provide visibility for the safest training, and ensure compliance with new fatigue management rules for business jet operators. As a foundation innovation lab partner, IEAG will also work alongside CAE as it invests in digital solutions— driving new heights in efficiency, safety and optimization.

"We're thrilled to welcome Innotech-Execaire Aviation Group as a foundation business jet partner for our crew performance digital ecosystem," said Nick Leontidis, CAE's Group President, Civil Aviation Training Solutions. "As the business aviation market comes back stronger than ever, innovative operators like IEAG are looking to digital transformation as a way to scale through technology, ensure brilliant service and safety is always paramount, and look toward the future of more productive, efficient and sustainable service."

"We are pleased to have found in CAE a partner to streamline our systems, ensure compliance with new regulations and support our innovation strategy for future operations," said Michael Fedele, President, Innotech-Execaire Aviation Group. "As Canada's longest-serving and prestigious corporate aircraft company, we have a long history working alongside CAE from training to operations, and we are excited to get a voice in the future digital solutions as a foundation lab partner."
